Ancient glaciers bypassed the Driftless Area, located in southwestern Wisconsin and nearby states. As a result, waterways including the Mississippi, Kickapoo, and Wisconsin Rivers vein its interior, forming an enchanting landscape of sharp ridge tops and deep valleys. Over time, this rugged area has been home to an astonishing variety of peoples, including Native Americans and European, Mexican, and Hmong immigrants. The Driftless Reader contains many literary, scientific, and journalistic writings, including contributions by Aldo Leopold, Laura Ingalls Wilder, and Frank Lloyd Wright. Curt Meine and Keefe Keeley will bring to life the natural and cultural history of this unique area.

Non-members are welcome. Reservation deadline: March 12th; no refunds after this date. For more information and to download your reservation form, please visit: univleague.wisc.edu/programs
